

SPIRITUAL PRACTICE

Pray

This week, purposefully pray for those who are hungry.

Many pray by talking to God about what they hope for.

Other people pray with their bodies, participating in efforts to help those around them have what they need to be safe and healthy.

Do a quick search to find out who is providing others with daily bread in your community.

Then, using words or actions, pray for God's will to be done through them.

Third Sunday in Lent

March 23, 2025

Welcome: Bread of Life

God of compassion, we remember all places and people suffering the devastation of famine. We pray for those whose daily bread is stolen by war, drought, climate change, and economic injustice.

May communities where the soil has dried, the rains have ceased, and crops have withered, be filled with your peace and love. May nations torn apart by conflict, where food cannot reach those in need, find strength in you and in their community.

Teach us how to support those bringing relief and stir the hearts of leaders to act with justice and urgency. May we work together to end the systems and greed that perpetuate hunger. Bring healing, hope, and abundance, O God. Amen.
